

Jobs I've Had In My Life

By
Rog Hiemstra

Note: The jobs listed below are those I have had where I earned money for my services, somewhat in chronological order. They have been for only one day (in the case of a garbage hauler—man that was hard work) to nearly 40 years (professor).

Babysitter	Electrician
Lawn mower boy	Navy Yeoman
Magazine subscription sales boy	4-H agent
Hay baler	Training manual creator
Hired man	Singer (Yes, I did earn money singing in various ways)
Apple picker	Camp director
Pickle farmer	Square dance caller
Milk man	Master of ceremonies
Garbage hauler	County Extension agent
Bus boy	Traffic census taker
Dish washer	Educational intern
Camp counselor	Graduate assistant
Waiter	Continuing education director
Paper mill sweeper	Instructional designer
Paper mill 6 th hand	Instructional technologist
Brick carrier	Editor
Brick layer	Professor (including as a Visiting Professor at several locations)
Cement floor man	Author
Newspaper delivery guy	Keynote speaker
Chauffeur (Wow! Get me to tell you about that one sometime as it almost landed me in jail)	Researcher
Playground director (Ask me what famous person's sister was my co-director)	Distance education planner
Basketball referee (What a job to quickly get parents and kids very mad at you)	Agency for International Development assessor
Gardner	Evaluator
Computer operator	Consultant (on a variety of contracts)
Computer programmer	Project director
Customer service manager	Educational trainer
	Department chair
	Voting inspector
	Web page designer